As of October 29, 2010, Lloyd's Reinsurance Company (China) Ltd will be known as Lloyd's Insurance Company (China) Ltd. This name change is in accordance with the expanded insurance licence granted by the China Insurance Regulatory Commission (CIRC) and will not affect any existing contracts or policies with Lloyd's China. All future contracts and correspondence will be with Lloyd's Insurance Company (China) Ltd.

Although the name change is due to the acquisition of a direct insurance licence, Lloyd's China is not currently writing direct business. The Market will be notified once the preparation work associated with the new licence scope is complete.
